

4ever. A certainty that lasts for years.

Ponsi begins the new year offering another solution for a bathroom of sober elegance and well-known quality. The new 4ever range, presented at Cersaie 2008, is now available with its complete collection: a wide range of products for deck and wall-mounted washbasins, shower heads and shower articles of refined and essential design.

On line with last trends and the geometric and minimal style of the last collections, Ponsi wisely mixes square shapes with a special golden finishing that enriches the range, keeping its modernity. Its handle parallel to the spout which is mounted in the middle of the body mixer gives uniformity and balance to the product, ensuring an easy water flow distribution.

With 4ever line Ponsi takes care - as usual - of design, technology and good quality which are features that have made the company a fixed point for people who look for an entirely made in Italy product.

The 10 years warranty label ensures not only the mechanical long lastingness of the product but also the brightness of its finishing. Thanks to the PVD (Physical Vapour Deposition) process which deposits a thin protective film on the whole product, Ponsi is able to improve the brightness, the resistance to abrasion and UVA rays of the 4ever programme.

Also the chrome finishing is for this range made with PVD process.
